

Attachment Training Package

Available from March 2021

Presenters: Dr Claire Cahill, Educational Psychologist
Beckie Davis, Specialist Support Worker, Dover STLS

Course Description:

This attachment training package has been developed for schools by the Dover STLS. The package includes a video and a list of recommended resources including links to additional videos, extra reading and practical ideas for resources to use in your school.

The video is in two parts:

Part 1: Delivered by Dr Claire Cahill from the Kent Educational Psychology Service. In it Claire explains about Attachment Theory and how a child with attachment difficulties might present in school.

Part 2: Delivered by Beckie Davis, Specialist Support worker for the Dover STLS. In this section Beckie looks at tried and tested strategies and interventions that can be used to support children with attachment difficulties in school.

Ideally this training can be delivered in a group or whole-school session for class teachers and TAs facilitated by a senior leader to prompt group discussions about how this might be applied with children in your school. There are places to pause throughout the video to allow for some group discussion and reflection during the training. The training can be delivered face to face but would also work as a remote session.

The package includes a follow-up session with a member of the STLS Team to discuss how the training has been implemented in school and to offer any further advice and support.

Course aimed at: All school staff
Parents may also benefit from this training

Cost of course: £45
